

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year Year-End Wrapup By Jim Weed

The holiday season is upon us and since this is the last issue for the year I thought I would catch up on some thoughts and news I haven't been able to formulate into a complete article.

Our schedule keeps us pretty busy sending out market letters twice each month. Add in some travel to events and spare time gets short. The holidays arrive and family demands their time also.

The Ferrari Market Letter wishes you and your family the best and we hope your future remains bright and healthy.

FERRARI movie by Michael Mann

By the time you receive this issue the film "Ferrari" will be showing in theaters. Set to be released on December 25 this film by Michael Mann depicts Ferrari at a point in his life when the man and the company was probably most vulnerable.

The movie is set in the summer of 1957 and follows the turmoil in preparation of the Mille Miglia.

I have not seen the movie yet. I also have no inside information other than the previews written by others. Based upon those reviews I felt I should add my comments to the fray.

First, it's a movie about Enzo Ferrari. Mr. Ferrari was a complicated man, autocrat, dictator, mentor, and many other adjectives, some not so savory, attempt to describe him.

Ferrari was all of those things, but it was the burning desire to race and win that drove him. If that meant pushing people to the limit to achieve his goals he did.

The plot is stated: In 1957, Enzo Ferrari, reeling from the death of his son Dino in 1956, the deteriorating relationship with wife Laura, and the company's impending bankruptcy, enters his racing team in the 1957 Mille Miglia.

All of the above is true. Things were difficult for Ferrari. It should be noted that Ferrari had won seven of the nine previous Mille Miglias, failing in 1954 and 1955 by coming in second and third overall respectively.

I'm not sure the tension of winning the 1957 edition was any greater than previous years. Racing has always been a dangerous sport.

It has been said "The man who demands everything the automobile can deliver is a winner. The man who demands one iota more is a fool."

There is no denying Enzo's personal life was tumultuous. But we must place ourselves in the time and place when having a mistress was not unusual for an industrialist such as Ferrari. Scandalous today, but not so much then.

Then there is the source this story is built around.

Based on the 1991 biography Enzo Ferrari: The Man, the Cars, the Races, the Machine by Brock Yates.

When it was published, the book was largely derided by many as taking the rumors and innuendos of all the bad about Ferrari and crafting a story around them. As research material for the movie, this book does not paint Enzo Ferrari in the best light.

So, there you have it.

Go see the movie, I'm sure it will be entertaining. The racing scenes are supposed to be good with realistic action. Racing movies have to walk a fine line between boring and too much action. Throw in some personality conflict and artistic license and you will have a successful movie.

Will it be a Grand Prix or Le Mans? What about Rush or Ford vs Ferrari? Those are great movies where Ferrari factors large. Who knows? On the list of the best ten racing movies maybe Ferrari will push Talladega Nights: The Ballad of Ricky Bobby off the list.

Ferrari of Atlanta offered their friends a preview on Saturday, December 16 - and Cathy Roush attended. She remarks "it is an intense drama-filled event with spectacular scenes. I don't want to say too much so you will look forward to seeing it! But now I want to read the book."

Sometimes being at the center of all the Ferrari information in the world, well, maybe not all, but probably the greatest database in North America, leads to many interesting phone calls.

As I understand it, a customer may order a new car from the dealer. Provided the dealer has an allocation to sell said car.

If the Ferrari the customer wants has already been “sold out” a deposit may be taken for a future unknown model. This will hold a slot for the next model to come.

Want a Purosangue? Nope, no more orders can be taken. How about the new Roma Spider? Sure, put a deposit down and you can pick up your new car in 2027.

Is this any way to run a business? Clearly the demand is great if customers are willing to buy and wait until...

Ferrari built its reputation on supplying performance cars and clearly the world demand is clamoring to own the performance and exclusivity a Ferrari offers.

How long can the company continue to push off its customers to some future date? There are many choices from other manufacturers that can offer instant gratification even if they cannot offer exclusivity.

Ferrari has had the philosophy to build one less car than the market demanded. The current system would appear to be falling short of that goal by several years.

In a world of supply and demand it would seem it is not the demand side that is the problem, it is supply. What would happen if Ferrari was able to increase supply? More people could own a Ferrari.

This could lead to more dealerships to sell and service those cars. That could translate into more profit for Ferrari and since Ferrari is publicly traded, better stock returns.

Ferrari is already very profitable and factory efficiency is very high. What would happen if Ferrari were to open another assembly line? Build another factory? What if it was in another city?

Would the cars from Maranello lose some of their luster? Would the future owner of a Roma, Purosangue, 296 GTB, or the next 'common' Ferrari, care where it was manufactured?

Clearly Ferrari is at a crossroad. Manufacturing must be close to maximum. Does Ferrari continue to play the “if you want a Ferrari, you must be willing to wait” game. For a long time.

Or will they recognize the product they make can become even more popular and, dare I say, more often seen on the road and parking lots of the world?

Yes, a Ferrari is exclusive. It is a status symbol. There is a mystique in owning a Prancing Horse from Die-hard Ferrari fans won't care; they will place their orders and wait. It is the new/future customer Ferrari should be interested in.

That is a problem that can be fixed if Ferrari has the will to make changes. Four years is a long time to wait, especially if you may not know what the future model will even be.

It's been a while, but I thought as an end-of year appeal to ask for more information about your cars or collection would be in order.

The Ferrari Market Letter has been collecting data on individual Ferraris for more than fifty years.

It all started with notebook paper and 5x7 cards.
Typed on an actual typewriter (remember those?).

Each sighting or advertisement was dutifully recorded and filed.

Once the computer became affordable the cards were re-typed into a database. Many years later those cards were sent to recycling as we felt the info had all been accurately transcribed into the computer system.

Since the early days of collecting data on a relatively small number of cars we have expanded the information collected.

Ferrari has continued to build more cars and each year there seems to be even more to record. Serial numbers are now in the 300000+ range.

One of the tenets (obsession?) of collecting data is where do you stop? I remember when 308s were being built and folks said there are too many to record. But we did.

Today that data has become useful; thank goodness we recorded those 308s and Testarossas.

The same could be said for F430 or 488s, but we do.

The obsession of collecting data makes it difficult NOT to record everything.

The internet has expanded the available information.

We now create photo files in which we store scans of photos and documents.

Placing these into a folder by serial number creates a complete visual history without filling the limited file cabinet space with paper.

Inserted with this issue is an Archives Registration form for you to fill out and submit for our records.

Please e-mail your form along with any invoices, photos, or other information you would like to keep safe. A future owner will thank you.

DONALD SLEATOR

(December 25, 1932 – October 11, 2023)

By Cyrille Jaquinot

It is with deep sadness to learn of the death of Donald Henri Noël Sleator who would have been 91 years old on December 25.

For those who don't remember, Donald wrote one of the most beautiful pages in automobile history in France, notably by flying the colors of Ferrari as an importer from 1958 to 1968.

His father, Alexander Walter Sleator, of British origin, was the historic importer since 1933 in Paris of prestigious brands such as Rolls-Royce, Bentley and Rover, running his company Franco-Britannic Autos Ltd (also called FBA Ltd).

In the fall of 1958, on the good advice of his coach-builder friend Battista "Pinin" Farina, he went to Modena to sign an exclusive importer contract for France and Monaco with Enzo Ferrari.

Upon his return to Paris, he appointed his son Donald (aged 26, just finished his studies in mechanical engineering at Rolls-Royce in England) as Technical Director of FBA Ltd, and charged him with organizing the import and distribution.

At that time, Ferrari began its transformation into the idea of manufacturing and selling sports touring cars with the collaboration of Pinin Farina (the name changed from 1961 to Pininfarina) in Turin and Scaglietti in Modena.

250 GTE S/N 2229 GT and Sleator family

Donald himself very often delivered Ferraris by road to his customers - for the mayor of Bayonne, Dr. Henri Grenet, for example, or even as far as Monaco.

Always accompanied by his dear wife Josy Sleator, called "GPS" who guided him with his Michelin road maps placed on his knees. In a single year, he remembers having covered more than 100,000 km in a 250 GTE from the company, the Ferrari 2+2 family car.

Very combative, Donald actively participated in all the car races in France, assisting his clients (Pierre Noblet, Jean Guichet... all of whom later became friends) in the Grand Turismo (GT) formula.

At the 24 Hours of Le Mans in June 1955 was the date of the terrible accident with Pierre Levegh's Mercedes. His father Walter Sleator, then suffering, entrusted him with the Bentley R-Type Continental at the age of 23, driving the official support car, with the agreement of the ACO (Automobile Club de l'Ouest).

June 1963, S/N 4155 GT and Donald Sleator

Subsequently during the twelve years that followed, Donald assumed every year, with a Ferrari of the company, as official driver of the ACO, the assistance in racing with the co-director Charles de Cortanze until the June 1967 edition.

George M. Carrick

Sept. 24, 1940 - Jan. 12, 2023

Early this year at Cavallino I learned about the passing of George Carrick.

George Carrick purchased his first Ferrari in 1971 in Switzerland from Rob de la Rive Box with a missing windshield.

Living in Canada at that time would require Carrick to remain in Europe for one year before he could bring his prize home.

No matter, he needed to get Scaglietti to manufacture another windshield anyway. It was this dedication to Ferrari and the Spyder California that ultimately inspired him to write the book.

In the mid-seventies there was precious little information on early Ferrari cars. There was even less information about this model.

Carrick began a lifetime quest to find all there was to know about the beautiful 250 GT Spyder California and compiled that information into a groundbreaking book full of details about engines, transmissions, and body features.

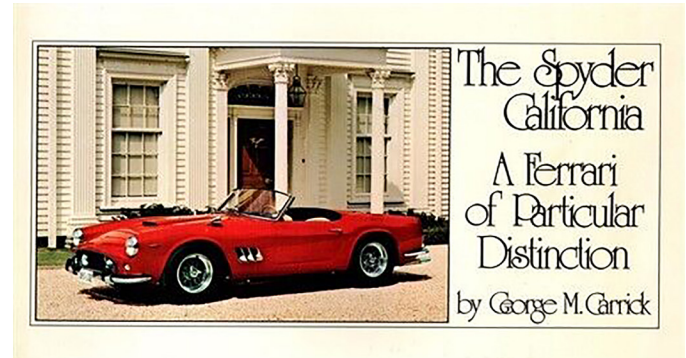

As he tracked down owners and collected photographs his data grew until it became clear he needed to publish his findings for all to enjoy.

The result in 1976 was The Spyder California, A Ferrari of Particular Distinction.

While many books have been written about Ferrari automobiles this book was the first to delve deeply into the topic of one Ferrari model.

Carrick's gathering of California material and information never stopped.

George would often call me and we could spend an hour discussing either some small detail or comparing notes of owners or how many were made with a particular feature.

His knowledge and passion were always what came through the phone during our conversations.

When S/N 2935 GT was discovered in France in 2014, that sparked more discussion as to how many SWB varietals were made.

Our records were compared, and we each agreed with the results. It was important for him to have his records up to date.

A true historian to the end. A good friend to all, I miss those long, interesting phone calls.

DINO 246 GT

246 GT, S/N 01496 (Feb. 1971 Euro. prod.). Red with black leather. Daytona seats, dash covered in black leather but we still have the original mouse fur. Headlight covers. Fully protected with clear film. Title, two keys, books, tool kits and records. $450,990. 4824
 Ferrari of Atlanta, atlanta.ferraridealers.com, 678-802-5000 (GA)

246 GT, S/N 03070 (Dec. 1971 USA prod.). Dark red with new black leather. Sold new by Gran Prix Motors, Seattle, WA, and in that area until 1994. Purchased by me in 2021 from that owner's estate. Ownership history and service records from new. New ANSA exhaust, wheels restored and new tires. Mechanical restoration completed by Niederst Restorations, Ventura, CA, Sept. 2023 which included new 10.5 to 1 pistons, complete rebuild of engine and drive train. All panels are original and fit well; no evidence of rust or damage repair. Repainted in 1987 and still very nice due to the car being in storage most of the time from 1987 until 2021. Tools, books, and jack. $495,000. 4824

250 GT LWB BERLINETTA RE-CREATION, S/N 1657 GT (1959). Dark red. Originally a PF coupe, imported to the UK in a disassembled state without a powertrain in the late 1980s. Swedish owner commissioned Carrozzeria Auto Sport of Bastiglia, Italy, to construct a brand new TDF chassis, rather than modifying the PF chassis. Completed in 1996, the re-creation is powered by a 3.0-liter inside-plug Colombo V12 with triple Weber carburetors topped by velocity stacks and an air pan. Four-speed manual transmission with overdrive and 16" Borrani wire wheels, custom-made TdF-style seats trimmed in tan leather. Power-assisted 360 mm drum brakes, installed by Patrick Ottis in Berkeley, California, in 2003. After spending time in Japan, the car was acquired by the seller in August 2021, and subsequent work has included major service, detailing of the red paint, installation of black carpeting, cosmetic refurbishment of engine ancillaries, and a rebuild of the electric fuel pump. Documents from 1987, images from the conversion in the 1990s, invoices from work by Ottis. $1,050,000. 4821

FOR 275 GTB/4: original factory exhaust from 18,000-mile car. Includes two center sections and left and right down pipes with collectors. It is not rusted or rotted in any way. In excellent condition except that the baffles in the right side muffler are loose and thus have a vibration at certain RPM. This can be easily repaired. Many of the new replacement systems are stainless steel and don't sound correct. The sound is harsh, not smooth and deep, simply because the stainless steel is a harder metal than the original mild steel. Does not include tailpipes. $500 + shipping. 4821

246 DINO BUMPERS: U.S. VERSION - FOUR BRAND NEW, still in factory packaging ... never opened. These bumpers have never been used. In 1979, at the age of 19, I bought my first Ferrari in Modena, Italy. Knowing that I would have to bring the car up to DOT and EPA specs, I went to the Ferrari Factory in Maranello Italy and bought four extra bumpers at the factory (because I was afraid I might screw things up when modifying the existing European version bumpers while attempting to meet DOT specs). The bumpers are STILL in the factory plastic and tape, and they have never been touched by human hand since the summer of 1979. $6,000 USD OBO. 4819
