

Hilton Head Island Concours d'Elegance & Motoring Festival By Cathy Roush

I probably sound like a broken record, but if you want to see Ferraris at the Hilton Head Concours, you better show up on Saturday.

Hilton Head is one of my favorite places. Not just because I like people from Ohio (IYKYK) but it has so much to offer vacationers in addition to being on the Atlantic coast. They boast 64 miles of public pathways and nature trails for the enjoyment of pedestrians and cyclists. The Island is home to more than 23 championship courses, both public and private, and while I don't play golf – except maybe putt putt, and there are a handful of those – I do like to watch it on tv.

The folks who organize the event on Hilton Head work very hard to put together an interesting experience. This includes a Life on the Water exhibit for boaters; a Best of Life exhibit, featuring cars first owned by famous people (for example, 360 Spider S/N 131871 sold new to Derek Jeter); and an Aero Expo, just a short shuttle ride from the concours field and featuring vintage and new aircraft.

This year's Pinnacle Collector honored Anne Brockinton Lee. Ms. Lee was born and raised just up the road in Charleston; it must have felt like coming home. Five cars are here from a remarkable collection: a 1937 Horch 853 Voll & Ruhrbeck Sport Cabriolet (which won Pebble Beach Best of Show in 2009); a 1931 Daimler Double Six 50 Corsica Drophead Coupe (which won Pebble Beach Best of Show in 2006); a 1953 Lancia Aurelia PF200 C Spider Prototype; and last but not least, two Ferraris: the 166 Barchetta Prototipo S/N 0002 M and a 250 GT Boano Cabriolet S/N 0461 GT. The Boano is the first Ferrari purchased by Ms. Lee's late husband, Robert M. Lee.

The scenic Port Royal Golf Club has been the site for the show since 2013. In 2016 Hurricane Matthew took a swipe at this lovely island and yet in just a few weeks the crew was able to clear enough debris from the course to host the annual event.

Saturday sees the Car Club Showcase, ranging from Corvettes of Hilton Head to The Classic Car and Truck Club of Beaufort, Palmetto Drivers Syndicate to the Lowcountry Oyster & Motorcar Driving Society. Try saying that three times fast.

I greet the folks from Foreign Cars Italia; I know several of the judges, members of other driving clubs, and even the Grand Marshall, Wayne Carini. I walk the entire field and read the names (while I'm enjoying the other marques) in case there is someone I associate with 'Ferrari' who happens to be showing a different make. There's always a couple.

As luck would have it, in the class Friends of the Showcase, I spot another Ferrari! Paul Skilowitz has driven his F355 Spider from Florida. This car has been at Cavallino, Celebration and FCA Annual Meets, but it's his first time at Hilton Head. There's the 550 Maranello S/N 114332 with the Elliot Remington detailing studio.

Finally, I encounter the folks representing the Southeast Region of the Ferrari Club of America. The first car is a yellow 308 GT4, S/N 8206. I've never seen this car before and I later learn it has spent time in The Netherlands. Hmmm. Very interesting. Not the oldest car present; that goes to a 330 GT 2+2 Series II, S/N 8705 – gorgeous in black with red interior.

There are two 458 Spiders; two F12berlinettas; a California, a Portofino and even the newest Portofino M. Then the 488 Pista and a 488 Spider.

A little further down, a 246 GTS, chairs and flares! S/N 06442 once spent time in the esteemed Petersen Museum.

I take a break and post a couple of pictures on Facebook: the yellow 308 GT4 and the 246 GTS. One of my friends asked, "which one are you driving home?" My reply – trick answer, the Dino. You had to see that one coming, dear reader.

All in all, on Saturday I got serial numbers from a Portofino with Foreign Cars Italia; the two Ferraris in the Pinnacle Collector's collection; Derek Jeter's 360 Spider; the Skilowitz 355 Spider sandwiched between a 1952 MG TD and a 1953 Packard Caribbean (rather odd placement, IMHO); the 550 Maranello; and twelve near the SE Region FCA flag. Not bad for a day's work.

RM Sotheby's London November 5, 2022

365 GT4/BB RHD, S/N 17967 (1974). Rosso Corsa with crema interior. Estimate £200,000 to £225,000. Ordered on 2 April 1974 and supplied via Maranello Concessionaires. Originally finished in Rosso Chiaro with blue interior. In its earliest years, it changed hands between private owners in the UK, gaining the registration number "BB 365" soon after sale by auction in 1989. This plate will be transferred to the new owner. The car was featured in books and magazines before going on to win concours award at Prescott Concours in 1985. Later, the car was sold and was refinished in Rosso Corsa with nero door sills with crema interior. The car appeared in the March 2013 issue of Thoroughbred & Classic Cars. Classiche Red Book notes the re-trimmed beige interior and replacement correct type F102 engine, fitted at an unknown point in the car's life. 39,139 miles. Recent major service in June 2022. Original shipment notes from the factory in history file, further reports by Marcel Massini and Tony Willis. Lot 114. Sold for £218,500 ($260,130).

512 BBi, VIN ZFFJA09B000039725 (1981). Rosso Corsa with black leather. Estimate £250,000 to £300,000. Delivered in January 1982 via Auto Becker. Specified with body-color induction intakes and spoilers. Imported into the UK in 2009, where it has passed through the hands of two owners prior to its acquisition by the consignor in 2017. As a condition of his purchase, the car was subject to a comprehensive service and partial restoration. Classiche accreditation in March 2019. Recent service in February 2022. It retains its matching-numbers engine, while the replacement of its original black leather interior with Daytona-style seats of a corresponding cream and red hue is the only aesthetic departure from factory specification. 25,964 kilometers. Lot 150. Sold for £258,125 ($307,305).

550 BARCETTA RHD, VIN ZFFZ-R52C000124064 (2001). Yellow with black interior. Estimate £180,000 to £230,000 GBP. Ordered on 20 December 2000 with the Fiorano Handling Package. Numbered 86 of 448. It left the factory finished in Rosso Corsa with nero leather interior, and first registered on 1 August 2001. On 18 September 2001, the owner ordered from Koenig-Specials, a "6 end pipes" stainless steel exhaust. Over the next 22 years it has been used sparingly, with 4,753 miles showing. In 2015, the seller decided open Ferraris should be yellow, and had had it resprayed in Giallo Fly by Dick Lovett Ferrari. Religiously maintained, with MoT history dating back to 2004, and a host of documentation that includes the Ferrari Certificate of Origin, manuals, and correspondence with Ferrari. Car cover, jack, soft-top, and toolkit. Lot 116. Sold for £218,500 ($260,130).

ENZO FERRARI, VIN ZFFCZ56B000132659 (2003). Rosso Corsa with nero interior. Estimate £1.8 million to £2.2 million. Ordered on 16 October 2002 and collected from the factory on 23 June 2003 by its first and only owner. In less than two months the car had travelled 3,471 kilometers, and on 5 August it was serviced at the supplying dealer. By the time of its second service on 17 September, the car had covered 9,894 kilometers. The consignor continued to use and enjoy his Enzo into the following year, before an accident in March 2004 necessitated repair works at the factory in Maranello. After returning to service, the consignor continued to drive his Enzo as before, and by September 2004 had covered 23,384 kilometers. Stamps in the service manual track the mileage from 2003 to 2012, with the last service stamp in May 2012 at 51,935 kilometers. As The Gran Turismo Collection grew, the Enzo saw less use. By 19 November 2019 the car had covered 71,924 kilometers. It was last serviced on 17 August 2021. Accompanied by documentation including books, Certificate of Conformity, Ferrari folio, locking wheel-nut socket, MoT certificates, photo album, order correspondence, service invoices, and warranty card, plus other associated documents. Lot 120. Sold for £1,917,500 ($2.28 million).

SUPERAMERICA F1 RHD, VIN ZFF-GT61C000146645 (2006). Giallo Fly with nero leather. Estimate £190,000 to £230,000 GBP. Originally finished in Grigio Silverstone with nero leather interior. One of 63 examples delivered to the UK. Registered by its first owner on 18 March 2006. Well optioned with brake calipers finished in aluminium paint, Daytona-style seat trim, Scuderia shields, Grigio Chiaro stitching, Becker Traffic Pro, and Fiorano Handling Package. The second owner acquired the car in June 2007, retaining the car until February 2013. The current owner decided to have all his open-top Ferraris painted in yellow and was refinished in Giallo Fly by Dick Lovett Ferrari. Part of The Gran Turismo Collection since 2013. Service records date back to 2009, and has a valid UK MoT until August 2023. Major service on 7 September 2022, at a cost of £7,499. Just 15,429 miles at the time of cataloging. Importantly, the Revocromico roof was found to be fully operational when tested on 3 October 2022. Lot 123. Sold for £189,750 ($225,903).

SA APERTA, VIN ZFF72RDB000183747 (2011). Giallo Triplo Strato with black leather. Estimate £1.4 million to £1.6 million. First registered in November 2011, purchased new by the consignor and joined The Gran Turismo Collection. 8,670 miles. Maintained by main dealers. Finished in with black detailing in place of the usual silver, plus yellow roll hoops and Scuderia shields. A GTO bonnet was fitted and the standard one remains with the car. Lot 130. Sold for £1,085,000 ($1.29 million).

LAFERRARI, VIN ZFF76ZHB000203166 (2014). Red with black interior. Estimate £2 million to £2.5 million. Delivered to the UK and first registered on 17 July 2014. This car has been regularly driven and enjoyed, and today has 24,233 miles on the odometer. The level of care is commensurate with use, with accompanying invoices from marque specialists totaling more than £30,000. This includes a March 2022 service. Ac-accompanied by its Yellow Book, issued at birth for limited-edition models. Car cover, monogrammed photo album, owner's manuals, leather overnight bag, towing kit, and tire inflator. Lot 128. Sold for £1,973,750. ($2.35 million).

F40, VIN ZFFGJ34B000088895 (1991). Red with black interior, red seats. Estimate £1.4 million to £1.6 million. Entered production on 8 March 1991 and finished on 21 March. It was delivered to its first owner in Monaco on 30 April 1991. In March 1994 the mileage was noted as 8,851 kilometers. The Ferrari stayed in the care of its first owner until 8 July 1997, when it was bought by the consignor. It spent some time at his home in France before being imported to the UK, where it was registered on 1 May 1998 and became part The Gran Turismo Collection. During the current ownership, it suffered an accident which necessitated new front and rear clams, sourced from the factory, to be fitted. Current mileage is 48,511 kilometers. With owner's manual and service book, numerous invoices and MoT certificates, plus spare brake discs and seatbelts. Lot 117. Sold for £1,411,250. ($1.68 million).

348 CHALLENGE, VIN ZFFKA35B000093646 (1992). Giallo with nero interior. Estimate £60,000 to £80,000. No reserve. This is an early 348 Challenge which was supplied new and converted by importer, Charles Pozzi. It was delivered to first owner, Christian Heinkele on 25 July 1992. It made its race debut on 3 April 1993 at the Circuit de Nevers Magny-Cours, where it was driven by Heinkele to a 10th-place finish. The series continued until November 1993, with Heinkele finishing 11th overall and rounding out the season with 12 points. For 1994, the car was more competitive; a series of strong performances resulted in Heinkele scoring 57 points and finishing the season 6th overall. Heinkele made an impressive start to the 1995 season, placing 2nd in class at Circuit Paul Ricard on his first outing. He returned the following day leading the field of 348 Challenge cars. The owner-driver steered the car to victory in all but two races, where he finished 2nd and 5th, respectively. He closed the season with 230 points and secured overall victory in the West European Ferrari 348 Challenge. 73,897 kilometers. Serviced on 29 September 2022. Accompanying history file, containing invoices dating from 1993 to 2016, period photographs, and race results. Lot 142. Sold for £69,000. ($82,146).

F355 CHALLENGE RHD, VIN ZFFXR41C000111454 (1998). Rosso Corsa with nero interior and rosso cloth seats. Estimate £80,000 to £120,000. Factory configured as a Challenge car and one of 18 delivered new to the UK. The first owner, racing driver John Seale, made his debut on 28 March 1999, at the Circuit de Barcelona-Catalunya. At Donnington Park, Seale finished 3rd overall and 1st in Class C. For the 2000 season, Seale again drove in the Ferrari Challenge series, racing at Castle Combe, Donington, Silverstone, Spa-Francorchamps, and Thruxton. He sold it to Kevin Wilkins, who participated in the 2001 and 2002 seasons of the Ferrari Challenge. In 2003, this F355 was acquired by Mike Furness, who raced from 2003 to 2007 in various rounds of the same series. Following a five-year hiatus, Furness returned to Silverstone—and the series—for one final time, taking part in rounds 1 and 2 on 17 April 2012. Acquired by the fourth owner in 2013, it was road-registered the following year. The car was lightly modified so that it could be driven on public roads. Today it is in its 2012 race livery and showing 18,137 miles. Lot 143. Sold for £92,000. ($109,528).

TESTAROSSA SPIDER, VIN EFG092 (1990) Red with black interior. Estimate £1.4 million to £1.8 million. It is thought that Pininfarina made seven almost identical but ultimately unique "Spider" adaptations for Brunei royalty, each finished in a different exterior and interior color combination. In addition to these Brunei cars, a very small number of Testarossa Spiders were built for important clients, including the consignor. Moving away from the global automotive manufacturing convention of a 17-digit VIN, Pininfarina instead created a new, truncated serial number convention for these rare convertible creations—this example is numbered "EFG092". This car has never been registered for road use and is thought to have spent much of its life on static display. Displaying 413 kilometers. Revived from its life-long state of static display in 2021, the car was taken to Italy for restoration work. Returning to Pininfarina, the convertible hood was functionally repaired, along with a full repaint and interior refreshed. Carrozzeria Zanasi then tended to the mechanical condition. Today, this example presents as an alluring piece of automotive history. Lot 134. Sold for £1,467,500. ($1.75 million).

Ed note: I've included this result for entertainment purposes. The FML has collected serial numbers and history for fifty-plus years and this story/car was a new one for us. After some investigation through other serial number sources and FerrariChat, there are more that have been identified. Why would there be a non-Ferrari serial number? It would appear Pininfarina, who built the Testarossa bodies for Ferrari, was allowed to create basically one-offs for special customers. The speciales would not fall under homologation regulations required of a manufacturer like Ferrari, and Pininfarina could claim they were made for display purposes only. If you own your own country you get to write your own rules.

The Current State of Digital Cameras

By Dom Miliano

Most subscribers reading this grew up, as I did, with cameras that used film. A trusty Kodak with type 127 roll film and only 12 exposures was all that my clan had. Families with more disposable income may have had a 35mm camera.

Family events were recorded on movies using 8mm and later on Super 8 cameras but these were film as well. People earning their living with a camera like newspaper reporters might have had a Speed Graphic – watch some old black and white movies to see what they were.

Alas, that was then, this is now. In fact, film cameras – I bet some of you have at least one tucked away in a closet – have become relegated as a tool used by photo students or budding fine-art photographers. The world today is digital. But technology doesn't stand still and I wanted to share some thoughts on the evolving world of the digital camera market.

Digital Point & Shoot / Compact – My friend is a regional representative for a famous camera company. He said the company's sales are doing well in all categories except the pocketable point & shoot models.

He says that the fact that everyone has a smart phone in their pocket also has a still and video camera too. And they are darn good cameras. To prove the point, the monthly Porsche Club of America magazine called Panorama reserves the last page of each issue to smart phone images shot by Jeff Zwart (a serious artist) and they are often stunning.

So, P&S cameras exist but companies aren't investing a lot of development money into this platform. The one exception is the rise of video blogging cameras or Vlog cameras. These incorporate high quality video capture, articulated screens so the "vlogger" can turn the video screen to face the subject so he or she can see what is being recorded. These also incorporate quality recording capabilities since social media-focused videos often contain music or singing. The camera considered the best Vlog camera right now is the Sony ZV-1.

Digital Single Lens Reflex – If you have owned a digital camera for a while, the chance is good it's a DSLR. This design matured from the film days and their look, feel and function mimics the size, weight and complexity of what was once considered state of the art for film.

These digital cameras feature interchangeable lenses that can give the owner extreme wide angle views up to extreme telephoto reach. For more that 20 years, the DSLR was considered the best way to record high quality images. Sports, wedding, news reportage, just about every photo you have seen this century was shot by someone using a DSLR.

For cost considerations, the digital capture device called the sensor has varied in size from quite small (the one in a cell phone is pinky-nail sized) up to the same size as the original 35mm film format. Sensors are expensive so only pro-oriented DSLRs originally had full frame sensors.

These sensors have growing pixel counts (my first digital camera had a 2-megapixel sensor) and with these changes, image quality reached and then exceeded the best that film could do. Yes, was heresy for a while but the best DSLRs today produce images with greater sharpness, color and dynamic range than was available in the film days. And they all shoot remarkable video too.

However, these cameras tend to be big and heavy, plus the best of the best were expensive as well. Manufacturers were hearing that size and weight was a common complaint; they were hearing about their DSLRs so they responded with the latest wave of new cameras.

How committed are manufacturers to the shift away from DSLR technology? Photographic stalwart, Nikon, dropped the price on their highly regarded D850 DSLR by about $1,000! What replaces the DSLR? Read on...

Mirrorless cameras – Just about every DSLR camera has a mirror that reflects the subject seen by the lens up through a prism and back to the eye of the photographer. That mirror has to flip up to allow light to fall on the sensor so an image is recorded digitally. The mechanism to do that is complex, can be noisy, and adds size and weight to each camera.

The current thinking by most camera makers is that eliminating the mirror allows them to reduce size, complexity, and weight. Plus, mirrorless cameras are built from the get-go to shoot video too. That's because, with a DSLR, to shoot video, the mirror has to stay up so the view through the normal eyepoint isn't available. With mirrorless, it's all done with an electronic viewfinder.

The above-mentioned Nikon as well as Canon (the two most well-known camera makers) have come out with pro and amateur level mirrorless cameras. These cameras are smaller, have more features – especially exceptional video capture – great autofocus ability and weather proofing. The Nikon Z9 (about $5,600) is considered by many reviewers as the high water mark for mirrorless cameras. However, Canon's R line as well as Ricoh, Sony, and Olympus have brought out well-reviewed mirrorless cameras as well.

What to Do - I recommend that if you are only an occasional shooter – vacations, weddings, graduations, etc., and have a DSLR that you like and is working, don't jump to mirrorless yet. They require new lenses (or adapters) and the prices are still high. However, if you shoot a lot of video and think your DSLR is too heavy or too big, find a local camera store and ask to see a few of these new mirrorless cameras. Buy the one that feels best in your hands and is simple to use...

288 GTO REBODY, VIN ZFFUA13A5E0052435. Rosso corsa with nero interior. Commissioned by its current owner and built by QV of London, this project took four years to complete using original Ferrari OEM parts throughout. All panels were produced from molds taken from an original 288 GTO; donor car was a US spec 308 QV; powered by a 348 engine and gearbox. All hinges, mirrors, louvers and badges are correct to GTO spec; all mechanical parts have either been renewed or overhauled/re-built; wheels and tires are brand new. QV of London serviced the car in February where the cambelts were changed and it has since had new rear brake calipers and handbrake mechanism. 64,100 miles. $150,000. 4723

The Ferrari Market Letter is totally independent and is not affiliated with Ferrari S.p.A., Ferrari North America, any Ferrari club or other Ferrari venture. It is published in print AND posted online, approximately once every two weeks (but definitely 26 times a year)!

Classified advertisements from current subscribers offering Ferraris for sale are published free of charge, appear in six consecutive issues unless cancelled earlier, and are then automatically cancelled unless renewed by the advertiser. Ferrari-related memorabilia, miscellaneous, wanted, etc., ads are accepted and published free of charge with certain additional restrictions (i.e. only one ad per category). Free ads are subjected to editing to conserve space. All classified ads must be Ferrari related.

Classified ads from non-subscribers and all display advertisements are published only on a prepaid basis. Please inquire for rates and specifications.

We reserve the right to edit all ads for accuracy and to suit our format. We reserve the right to refuse any ads which do not meet our requirements. We are not responsible for errors in fact or content.

Unsolicited materials for publication consideration are welcome, and will be returned if requested. Material accepted for publication is subject to revision and editing to meet our requirements. Submitting material for consideration constitutes an express warranty by the contributor that the material is in no way an infringement on the rights of others.

READING AND WRITING ADVERTISEMENTS

The following sample ad is both a guide to understanding the advertisements appearing in the Ferrari Market Letter as well as a guide to preparing ads for the Ferrari Market Letter. Ads submitted must always contain the minimum acceptable information -- items numbered 2, 3, 8 and 12 -- or they will not be published. Items 1 and 9 are supplied by us. Free classified ads are limited to five (5) lines (approximately 60 words) not counting contact line. We reserve the right to edit all ads for accuracy and to suit our format.

1 - Asterisk and bold print indicate a new listing. 2 - Type designation. 3 - Serial Number (must be in every ad!). 4 - Year of Production on pre-1980 cars and all European models; "USA model year" on 1980 or later USA models. On Ferraris produced after 1967 it is also advisable to specify whether or not it is a USA model. 5 - Exterior and interior colors. 6 - Additional description and sales pitch. 7 - Mileage. 8 - Asking price (must be in every ad!). 9 - Volume and issue number representing the last time the ad was renewed, modified or added. 10 - Name of seller (optional in ad, but must be supplied for our verification). 11 - Address (again optional). If no address specified we will identify the state, based on the area code for the phone number. 12 - Telephone number or other contact information (i.e. fax number, email address, etc.) 13 - Any qualifications

WE DO NOT PUBLISH FERRARI CLASSIFIED ADS WITHOUT SERIAL NUMBERS AND ASKING PRICES! WE REQUIRE THAT ALL ADS BE SUBMITTED IN WRITING VIA E-MAIL OR REGULAR MAIL.

246 DINO BUMPER: U.S. VERSION - FOUR BRAND NEW, still in factory packaging ... never opened. These bumpers have never been used. In 1979, at the age of 19, I bought my first Ferrari in Modena, Italy. Knowing that I would have to bring the car up to DOT and EPA specs, I went to the Ferrari Factory in Maranello Italy and bought four extra bumpers at the factory (because I was afraid I might screw things up when modifying the existing European version bumpers while attempting to meet DOT specs). The bumpers are STILL in the factory plastic and tape, and they have never been touched by human hand since the summer of 1979. $6,000 USD OBO. 4723

The Ferrari Place

I am excited to announce THE FERRARI PLACE, a book compiled and expanded from a 3-part series on FAF Motorcars that ran in the Ferrari Club of America Quarterly, PRANCING HORSE.

Situated at the end of a gravel-strewn road behind a concrete plant in Tucker, GA., FAF exceeded expectation to make an indelible impact on North American enthusiast culture. Memories and observations from many of FAF's former staff, competitors, customers, and enthusiasts are illustrated with rarely seen photos, beautifully designed by David Williams.

A sewn-bound, offset press hardback with a laminated case-wrapped cover, each copy of this extremely limited first run will be hand-numbered.
